My story, your story, the story

Exploring stories for infants and toddlers in Aotearoa NZ

He pēnei tonu te pāharakeke i te whānau

The flax is like the whānau/family. In the middle grows te rito, the child who blossoms within the caring embrace of father, mother and whānau

A course for Early Childhood Teachers to courageously explore their practice with infants and toddlers.

Together we will:

- inspire our thinking and practice
- rethink our relationship with Te Whāriki
- reflect on current research and theory
- explore Te Tiriti o Waitangi based partnerships within the context of working with infants and toddlers.

Through sharing our stories we will explore:

- our image of the child
- the Pikler approach
- the importance of care and play
- the value of environment
- assessment

Dates: Monday 26th – Wednesday 28th November, 2018
Venue: Comfort Quality (CQ) Hotel, Cuba Street, Wellington
